ABOUT

BetterHumans
BetterPerformance

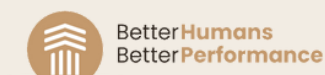

In 2025, Peter Rea launched a nonprofit entitled Better Humans Better Performance. After expenses funds support scholarships for first generation college students.

The mission of Better Humans Better Performance is to help individuals and teams perform at a high level despite pressure and uncertainty guided by character defined as virtue.

TESTIMONIAL

“A company’s financial value is measured by the balance sheet. A company’s true value is in its team members, its culture, and how well its people perform together every day. Better Humans, Better Performance is a great tool for building on that value and developing happier, fulfilled people who will dedicate themselves to better performance every day.”
